REGISTER FOR SUNDAY BREAKFAST

The MAOC Affiliated Societies Breakfast will be held in conjunction with the Fall Mid-America Orchid Congress on November 1, 2009 in Franklin, Tennessee. The topic of discussion will be "Creative Approaches to Local Orchid Shows."

Local societies are dependent on a successful annual show to promote the local society and to recruit new members. The show is also an opportunity to educate the public about orchid genera and conservation as well as to showcase the hobby.

The Breakfast discussion offers a forum to share ideas on publicity, finances, location, staging, awards, local participation and hospitality. Plan to attend to share your ideas and to learn from the experiences of others.

CONTINUE TO BE AN ACTIVE MEMBER OF MAOC

Remind your Society to pay its 2009 dues. As a member of the Mid-America Orchid Congress, your Society joins orchid societies in 17 states, as well as in Ontario, Canada, to fund education, research and conservation. The amount of dues is based on the number of members in your Society: $0.50/member, $15.00 minimum.

Dues forms are available from our Treasurer Jan Yates (jyates11@earthlink.net)

A completed form, listing the contact persons in your Society, enables MAOC to send the Congress's newsletter, The Mid-American, to members of your Society. The Mid-American informs your Society of issues related to the operation of a successful society, including changes in show schedule rules and classification.

INNOVATIVE APPROACH TO ORCHID CONSERVATION

As orchid societies, one of our missions is to advance orchid conservation. The last speaker at the Spring Mid-America Orchid Congress in Columbus, OH, on March 29th was Mark Sullivan. His topic was "Orchid Conservation Coalition: a New Paradigm for Conservation". Mark is organizing a grass roots movement to increase awareness and money for orchid conservation. He has started the Orchid Conservation Coalition - a coalition of individuals, orchid societies, and orchid businesses supporting orchid conservation. The coalition does not collect any money. Rather it collects a commitment from supporting people and groups to donate 1% of their net revenue to support orchid conservation. His organization is endorsed by both the American Orchid Society and the Orchid Digest Corporation.

Mark's website details his entire program: <http://www.orchidconservationcoalition.org>. It also is the backbone for another of the Coalition's goals – networking groups to support orchid conservation. Because his Mid-America presentation was Sunday afternoon, many attendees missed it. His website includes information on conservation organizations, habitat loss and preservation along with conservation articles and conservation speakers that you might have missed.

The Orchid Conservation Coalition has two programs: 1 % for Orchid Conservation (1%FOC) and Living Orchid Collection (LOC). In addition to the AOS and Orchid Digest endorsement some of the following societies and businesses have made the 1%FOC commitment: San Francisco Orchid Society , Orchid Species Society of Western Australia, New Hampshire Orchid Society, Bucks County Orchid Society , Slipper Orchid Alliance, Native Orchid Conference, Boulder Orchid Society, Orchid Society of Southern California, Illinois Orchid Society, Orchid Growers' Guild,

Portland Orchid Society, Denver Orchid Society, Orchid Seedbank Project, The

Calypso Orchid Company , and Spangle Creek Labs. Information about the LOC commitment is found on the website.

The monetary commitment for a society is determined by the society's board. The only reporting to the coalition involves the amount of money given and the conservation recipient. There are guidelines for acceptable conservation groups along with information on conservation groups already agreeing to be accountable and open with funding they receive from the 1%FOC. These groups are: Native Orchid Conservation Inc , Debwendon Inc, Jardin Botanico Las Orquideas , Orchid Conservation Alliance, Denver Botanic Gardens, EcoMinga , Plant Restoration, Conservation and Propagation Biotechnology , Tropical Research and Education Center At the Tropical Research and Education Center (TREC), at the University of Florida, Homestead, FL, USA, Orchid Conservation International Grande Ronde Overlook Wildflower Institute Serving Ecological Restoration (GROWISER), La Grande, Oregon. Information about and contacts for each of these groups are on the website. The Greater Cincinnati Orchid Society board is making a presentation to our membership about the 1%FOC. If approved by our membership, we will follow with completing the agreement to join the coalition and create a committee to determine the conservation group(s) to support.

I have a short PowerPoint presentation about the Coalition available to loan to any society that would like to borrow it.

BARBARA NUERNBERGER

With great sadness, MAOC announces the sudden death of Barbara Nuernberger on April 23, 2009. All of us knew Barbara as a cornerstone of the West Shore Orchid Society of Northern Ohio: newsletter editor; past-president; organizer of all events in which the society participated; a mentor and friend to all orchid growers. Barbara served on the Mid-America Orchid Congress Show Schedule Committee for many years. Regional orchid shows recognized her ability as an award-winning grower. Barbara will be greatly missed.

Barbara, the wife of Dean Nuernberger, was born in Detroit, Michigan, and graduated from the University of Michigan. Her professional life included teaching German and history in Salzburg, Austria and at Lorain, Ohio High School. Horticulture, baseball, opera, ballet, and raising champion miniature wire-haired dachshunds were among her many interests.

A memorial trophy, established as the Barbara B. Nuernberger Best of Show Trophy, will be awarded annually at the West Shore Orchid Society Show.

WHERE DO YOU HOLD YOUR SHOW?

Here is an interesting question for you from our Treasurer Jan Yates from the Greater Cincinnati Orchid Society:

“How are societies doing orchid shows differently; like in conjunction with home and garden shows or local flower shows, where there is a venue and/or hotels already in place? My knowledge is limited to the Midwest; we in the Greater Cincinnati Orchid Society do not have to pay the conservatory where we stage our normal orchid shows -- other societies have different experiences and I'd be interested in hearing from some of them.”

What is your Society's situation? If you will send me your situation relative to your local show, I'll share that in future issues of The Mid-American. Might give all of us ideas.

To begin the discussion, I'll start: my own society, the Greater Lansing Orchid Society, uses a conservatory at Michigan State University's Department of Horticulture. The rent is $700 for all day Friday, Saturday, and until 6 pm Sunday. Would be higher except very few brides want to get married in a working greenhouse in Michigan in late February!

Thanks.
